

MAN ACCUSED OF TRIPLE MURDER PRESENTS CALM MIEN IN COUNTY JAIL

JOHN HENRY CLAIMS NIGHT OF WOODSON TRAGEDY IS WHOLLY A MENTAL BLANK

Relates Story of Awakening In St. Louis Freight Yards—Newspaper Report of Crimes Charged Brought Vague Impulse to Return—Reports of Ill Health Are Recalled—Messrs. Hairgrove and Wilson Will Defend—Absence of Sentiment Against Henry Is Marked.

Within the confines of the Morgan county jail John Henry is a prisoner today, ready to give answer before the bar of justice for the accusations made against him. Since returning to his home near Woodson during the blinding snow storm of Friday night Henry is reported to have talked only at intervals even to relatives and close friends.

Briefly, the story he tells is that the memory of all the doings and happenings from Tuesday afternoon until an early hour Thursday morning is absolutely obscured. He has read in the papers that he is charged with the murder of three people. His relatives have furnished him some details of the awful tragedies and yet Henry says that he cannot realize that Charles Ezard, Everett and little Howard Crain are dead. The prisoner does not seem to be impressed with the enormity of the crimes alleged against him and shows no signs of grief or remorse. There are evidences that he is somewhat weak and that he is physically weary yet withal there seems to be no special nervous condition and he looks his visitors squarely in the eye and gives his usual hearty hand clasp.

Brought From Woodson.

Early Saturday morning John Henry was brought from Woodson to Jacksonville by Deputy Sheriff Rogers and Deputy Sheriff Todd on the Alton train. They were accompanied by Charles Henry, Jesse Henry, Samuel Henry and Richard Meggison. After the arrival of the party at the county jail the Messrs. Henry and Mr. Meggison arranged for conference with William N. Hairgrove and William T. Wilson and engaged them as attorneys for John Henry. The coronor's investigation is to begin tomorrow when Messrs. Hairgrove and Wilson will appear on behalf of their client and States Attorney Tilton and J. Marshall Miller for the state.

From friends of John Henry this story of his wanderings has been gleaned. Following the tragic events of last Tuesday night he must have taken a freight train south from Woodson into Roodhouse and have ridden from that town into St. Louis. His first recollection of events since Tuesday afternoon is that he was awakened by a brakeman in the Wiggins freight yards in the west side of St. Louis. He says that he was lying in an empty coal car, which was just about to be filled with sand and a brakeman happened to spy him and roused him. The man had a dim recollection that he walked along by the track, through piles of sand and that later on he passed a cheap lodging house where a sign advertising beds at 10 and 20 cents a night attracted his eye. He was weak and sick and did not know where he was going and had no conception at all of where he was.

In St. Louis Rooming House.

Henry entered the house and was assigned to a dingy little room where he soon was lying upon the bed. He must have speedily dozed off into a deep sleep for there came no hint of consciousness until Thursday morning. Then he says that he awoke and finding himself already dressed went down the narrow stairway to the little sitting room or office on the first floor. There he sank into a chair and picked up a St. Louis Wednesday evening paper and as he read this paper his eye lighted upon the printed story of the Woodson tragedy. There was something about it which attracted his interest and in some dim sort of a way he felt that he was connected with the story. He grouped around mentally, as one does physically, in blinding darkness and still there came no full realization that he was John Henry or that he was charged with the deeds mentioned in the newspaper story.

Woman Offered Aid.

The man sat there for some little time further. He had eaten nothing and had no wish for food. The woman in charge of the house noted his drooping figure in the chair and asked if he was sick, or if there was anything she could do for him. According to Henry's recollection he told her that he wanted nothing but would take a little walk. He went outside the lodging house walked a few blocks and somewhere purchased a Stetson hat and a pair of trousers and he realized that he was wearing overalls and a heavy cap and that somehow he seemed to have gotten far away from home. He says that he does not know or have the slightest idea where he bought the new apparel. A little later on he returned to the lodging house and again went to his room and for the remainder of that day and during Thursday night was rested by a fitful slumber.

Read Story of Train Tragedy.

Awakening Friday morning he was no sooner dressed than there came to him a lingering memory of the story he had read in the newspaper about a crime at Woodson with which he seemed in some vague way to be connected. He went down stairs and looking among the pile of newspapers on the little table found the one he had been reading the day before. The story of the tragedy again came beneath his eye and as he read it line by line gradually there came to him a clearer realization that he was John Henry and that officers were searching the country for him. In the closing sentences of the story his eye lighted upon words which suggested some reflection upon his wife, and quick as a flash there came a definite thought that he must go back to Woodson and must get back quickly. The activity of his mental faculties seemed to be renewed and turning to the landlady he suddenly asked her where he was and how long he had been in that place.

Tried to Phone Brother.

After going once more to the little room Henry took the cap and overalls and wadding them into a bundle stuck them beneath his coat. Then he hurried down the stairs and out into the street and walked a number of blocks until a telephone office sign was noted and there he called the office and later the home of his brother in East St. Louis and learned that the brother was in Morgan county. It had become impressed upon his mind that men were searching for him and that he must walk and travel in obscurity as much as possible. After making inquiries he determined that he would ride to Venice on an interurban car and there catch a freight train which would carry him back to the familiar scenes about his home.

Boarded Engine Tender.

Arriving at Venice he hid about the railroad yards for several hours trying to locate a freight train which was bound for the Roodhouse and Bloomington division of the Alton. He waited in this until after night fall and then when the passenger came along about 6:15 under the cover of the darkness he climbed on the blind end of the baggage car and then to the engine tender. There he rode until the train stopped at Carrollton to take water. It was a wild night, the wind was blowing fiercely and a snow storm was raging yet the man clung to his exposed position on the tender. At Carrollton the fireman happened to see him noted that he seemed to be suffering from the cold and told him he could ride in the engine cab. There before the roaring fire beneath the boiler some of the numbness brought on by the long exposure in the cold left him. He was aware when stops were made and kept back on the journey until he knew that Murraville had been reached. There was still a definite impression that he was a hunted man and when the engineer and fireman were not looking he slipped out of the cab and hid until the train had pulled out for the north and until certain that all the persons who had congregated at the station had disappeared he began his two mile tramp through the snow.

The Return Home.

John Henry's return to his home was spectacular in its very simplicity and pathos. He knew by some instinct or returning memory that he was looked upon as a fugitive that the rights as the head of that household were temporarily at least no longer his. He entered the house when his brother opened the door and invited him in. There was both joy and sadness in the meeting between brother and brother, and wife and husband. There was no fear upon the part of the wife or the brother that John Henry's acts would be other than gentle and peaceful. True their hearts were heavy because of the knowledge of the crimes of which he was charged and yet joyful in knowing that he had voluntarily come back to help unravel the mystery and to face punishment or meet vindication as the result might be.

Questioned By Family.

It is related that night little reference was made to the tragedy of Tuesday. It was evident to members of the family group which included Richard Meggison that John Henry was weak and worn and that his condition was not normal. He sank into a chair and his brother removed his clothing, bathed him, and assisted him to bed. The man seemed to be in a semi-stupor though at times he talked and asked questions. He did not sleep, and he had no wish for food. As time wore on the members of the family who sat beside him during the night quickly questioned him as to where he had been and how he had returned. The details he gave were those which have been related above. Henry says that he has an indistinct recollection of visiting the store of Andre &

OMISSION OF ASIATIC EXCLUSION FROM BILL BRINGS HOT DEBATE

Consideration of Burnett Immigration Bill In House Brings Live Discussion HAVE LOOSE MORALS

Representative Curry Asserts Loose Morals Are Universal Among Japanese Men

OTHER WASHINGTON NEWS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—Omission of Asiatic exclusion from the Burnett immigration bill precipitated lively discussion in the house today the debate extending into a night session.

"Loose morals," declared Representative Curry of California, "are universal among Japanese men and uncondemned among Japanese women, their daughters are sold without shame into immorality and there are 2,000,000 professional immoral women in Japan. The idea of marriage between whites and Asiatics is revolting and menacing in problems of a Mongrel racial degeneracy."

"The Japanese are driving the American farmer out of business in California," he added.

Japan recently enacted a law, Mr. Curry said, permitting aliens to hold real-estate who come from a country that permits the Japanese a like privilege.

Representative Baker, of California whose bill for exclusion and certification of Japanese and other Asiatics will be brought up later, quoted Thomas Jefferson as having said he wished there was a sea of fire separating the old country and America. Representative Mann of Illinois asked where most of the members of the house would be if that wish had been fulfilled.

"In the sea of fire," shouted a member.

Representative Moore of Pennsylvania opposing the literacy test asserted that the bill would deprive a quarter of a million people the right of admission into this country annually. He charged that the literacy test was leveled at labor rather than against crime. Representative Gold-fogel of New York declared the bill was unjust to foreign born people and that those now in the country were as patriotic as any class of Americans.

Burleson's Report.

Government monopolization of telegraph, telephone and wireless communication and such other means for the transmission of intelligence as may hereafter be devised to the senate today by Postmaster General Burleson.

Immediate government ownership of telephone lines is recommended with a system of license for the other agencies of communication; establishing a government monopoly even where there is no actual ownership.

Winding up a week of consideration of the administration's anti-trust legislative program, members of committees of the house and senate predicted today that the bills suggested in President Wilson's message would be ready for congress before March 1st.

Hearings before the house judiciary and inter-state commerce commissions, it was announced would not be prolonged and the senate inter-state commerce committee with the approval of the president will receive suggestions by mail from men of affairs interested in the subject instead of conducting formal hearings. Besides perfecting the inter-state trade commission bill and drafting tentative measures designed to supplement the Sherman anti-trust act, the committees have two other important matters to dispose of. These are:

To draft a bill giving the inter-state commerce committee supervision of the issuance of railroad securities.

To determine upon terms of an amendment to the tentative trade relations bill which would prohibit holding companies.

Members of the house inter-state commerce committee, headed by Representative Adamson of Georgia, already are at work on the railroad security bill and the senate committee considered this subject today. Chairman Newlands being authorized to get together all bills pending on the subject. The senator said it was quite likely his committee would consult with the Adamson committee on the matter in the future. Sub-committees already were studying the subject of holding companies and their effect on the business of the country, he added. Republican members of the senate inter-state commerce committee showed active interest in the trust bills today and Senator Cummins of Iowa offered several amendments to the trade committee bill which would extend its powers. Democratic members believe the proposed trade commission should not be granted any administrative authority.

STATESMAN'S BODY LAID TO REST TODAY

BODY OF SHELBY M. CULLOM LIES IN STATE IN CAPITOL

Thousands File Past Coffin to View Remains of Last American Statesman of Lincoln's Day—Funeral Services To Be Held in Hall of Representatives.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Jan. 31.—The body of Shelby M. Cullom lay in state here today in the capitol which was built during his administration as governor. From one o'clock to six this afternoon two intermittent lines filed past taking a last look at the last American statesman of Lincoln's day.

Last night and this afternoon the more intimate friends viewed the body at the home of Mrs. Charles Ridgely, mother of the decedent's son-in-law, William B. Ridgely. The streets were deep with snow when the coffin was removed from the Ridgely homestead.

As it was borne out of the old-fashioned library to the street it passed a relic of Civil War days when Cullom was actively supporting War Governor Yates in the task at the head of which was another Springfield statesman, Abraham Lincoln. This relic is part of a tree which stood between the union and confederate lines at Chickamauga. A cannon ball, several canister shot, pieces of shell and innumerable bullets are imbedded in it. Owing to the depth of the snow the military guard was not required to escort the hearse from the home to the state house. It was followed by two closed carriages bearing the ten pall-bearers and a third vehicle with the floral tributes.

The coffin was placed on a platform draped with the national colors. Around this were banded wreaths sent by distinguished friends of the late senator. At the foot of the coffin stood the bronze figure of a woman, "Illinois Welcoming the World."

On this was placed the great wreath of orchids presented by the members of the Lincoln Memorial commission. On the tier was President Wilson's wreath. Other memorial offerings were from Robert T. Lincoln, Charles W. Fairbanks, former vice-president, who served many years in the senate with Cullom and from the state national bank of Springfield of which Mr. Cullom was president when thirty years old, he began his long services in the senate.

There were at least two figures of interest in the lines which walked slowly through the capitol today—Josiah Beard and Colonel John A. Pattee.

Pattee, a Gettysburg veteran, followed Lincoln to Oak Ridge cemetery forty-nine years ago as one of the great military escort under General Joseph Hooker. Tomorrow he will be in the Cullom train.

Beard is 87 years old, two years older than the late senator at the time of his death.

"I think I was the first man here to be introduced to Mr. Cullom when he came here with a letter of introduction to Lincoln in 1853," said Beard. "It was state fair week and he and a friend of mine Whitmore had just arrived after being delayed up the line by a train wreck."

Senator Cullom's intimate associates of early days in this city only four survive. They are Dr. William Jayne, John W. Bunn, Dr. George W. Pasfield and William Ridgely. Excepting Ridgely, all were confined to their homes by the storm today and it is doubtful whether they will be able to attend the funeral tomorrow.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the hall of representatives, where Adjutant General Dickinson, by removing the desks and bringing in 1,500 chairs from the state armory, has provided seats for 2,200. Admittance will be by ticket. The Rev. Duncan MacLeod, formerly Mr. Cullom's pastor at Washington, will deliver the sermon and eulogies will be pronounced by Governor Dunne, Senator Lawrence Y. Sherman and Clinton C. Conkling, a pioneer lawyer of this city.

Owing to the snow, which is very deep on the road leading to the cemetery, difficulty in obtaining the number of carriages needed is feared. Two hundred have been pledged but more will be needed unless the weather forbids the presence of many who otherwise would visit the cemetery.

The procession will move through the city into Fourth street which leads to the burial grounds and along which an old copy of the Lincoln funeral program says that procession moved.

The coffin will be lower into a grave near the Lincoln monument and near the tomb of the late Governor John R. Tanner.

Sensor Cullom's five children and his two wives preceded him in death and the last space in the burial lot will be occupied with the lowering of his own body into it.

Besides giving the trade commission authority to regulate the size of corporations, Senator Cummins proposed amendments would also empower it to "determine whether any person or corporation is violating the law with respect to sales below actual cost for the purpose of inflicting injury upon competitor and whether any corporation is violating the law with respect to the amount of its capitalization as compared with the value of its property."

WAR DEPARTMENT OF MEXICO DISCOVERS PLOT AGAINST HUERTA

Requena, Chief of Diaz Organization and Other Prominent Men Arrested

RIFLES ARE DISCOVERED

Agents of Minister of War Blanquet Discover Several Hundred Rifles Stored in Capitol

FEDS ORDERED TO TORREON

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 31.—With the arrest today of Jose Luis Requena, chief of the Felix Diaz political organization and two or three other men who also were prominent in his support in the late race for the presidency and the discovery of several hundred rifles stored in the capitol, the war department believes it has well in hand a new plot which has for its object an attempt to overthrow the government tomorrow. The case has been handled entirely by agents of General Blanquet, minister of war. The chief of police, Colonel Francisco Chavez, many of whose men are alleged to be implicated in the treasonable plan is inclined to doubt the accuracy of the war department's information.

The exact development of the plot and the exact form the new government was to take are things on which General Blanquet is uncommunicative nor do his agents profess to know the details. The claim to have some evidence to indicate that the plan was either to install as temporary president General Fernando Gonzales, an army officer of repute, who is now in Washington, or General Felix Diaz.

Another feature which is interesting those working on the case is the reported disappearance from Paris of General Mondragon who was Diaz "Chief Lieutenant" at the time of his revolt here a year ago. He was removed from the department of war and sent to France on a special mission by President Huerta. Information from Paris is that he has not appeared at the bank to collect his last remittance from the government now many days overdue.

As corroborative evidence it is reported that an American while recently in Havana was talking to General Diaz relative to a concession which he hoped to get in Mexico. Diaz advised him not to do anything further until he (Diaz) was in power, intimating that the time would not be long.

Requena's son visited the American embassy today and appealed to Charge O'Shaughnessy to use his good offices in behalf of his father.

Requena is imprisoned in Santiago military prison over which the police have no jurisdiction. Villar, an attorney who also was arrested, was taken to the penitentiary. Requena is an aged man reputedly wealthy, who up to the time he was induced to take the leadership of the Diaz party and appear as vice-presidential candidate had never displayed active interest in politics.

The war department insists that the recent rebel activity on the Isthmus of Tehuantepec, especially about Puerto, Mexico, the Atlantic terminus of the Tehuantepec railroad was wholly a Diaz movement.

Makes Annual Payment.

Mexico City, Jan. 31.—Mexico today made her annual payment on account of the Pious Fund debt to the American Charge d'affaires Nelson O'Shaughnessy, notwithstanding that the payment of other claims was postponed.

The prompt action of the government followed a request made by the charge. The amount was about $13,000 Mexican.

Mr. O'Shaughnessy first called at the office of the general treasury and was asked to return in an hour, as the treasurer then had available only about two thirds of the amount. Later, payment was in full.

Have Not Arrived.

San Diego, Cal., Jan. 31.—Robert W. Harwood, an Oakland, Cal., newspaper man and Mortimer Miller, his companion, reported by Mexican authorities to have started under guard for Ensenada Wednesday, had not arrived there tonight.

Claude Gaite, United States consul at Ensenada telegraphed information to Clarence D. Spriggs, deputy collector of customs here, that Enrique Aldrete, sub-prefecto of Tia Juana had predicted that the party would reach Ensenada in the afternoon. Then men were arrested on suspicion of heading a gang of free booters.

Their friends fear that they have been shot.

WOMAN GUARDS BODY OF SISTER FOR WEEKS

PLACED IN HOSPITAL TO AWAIT EXAMINATION BY LUNACY COMMISSION

Body of Mary Warren is Found in Room With Sister—Police Break Into Room and Find Nanette Nearly Dead of Starvation—Case is One of Mystery.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Jan. 31.—Miss Nanette Warren who was found in her apartment here last night beside the body of her sister, Miss Mary Warren was placed in the insane ward of the county hospital tonight to await examination by the lunacy commission. Physicians say Mary Warren had been dead for three weeks.

The mystery surrounding the actions of the two prim little spinsters who came here from Toledo nearly two years ago, remained unsolved tonight for efforts to induce Miss Nanette to explain proved futile. Nurses say she apparently does not remember the dreadful weeks she passed sitting beside her sister's body in a room, every crack of which she had stuffed with rags. Mary's body was taken to the morgue last night but her sister was not informed of this.

The sisters who were about 50 years old were very reserved. It was thought they possessed very little money and neighbors say they had made investments which turned out badly. It is said that this happened about Christmas time and both seemed pitifully distressed.

A Christmas message came to them from a friend, Miss Mildred Klein of Toledo but apparently they did not answer it and soon they began to refuse to see anyone or to keep appointments with acquaintances. Ten days ago their landlady, Mrs. L. L. Woods, went to their door to deliver a telephone message. She says Mary was lying quietly in bed. Nanette said her sister was not well but required nothing. The police say she had died days before, probably of starvation. Mrs. Woods, with the assistance of the police broke into the room last night.

Police surgeons discovered that Miss Nanette had not eaten for more than a week and when she was taken to the hospital they fed her forcibly. Late today however, she consented to eat of her own accord. A half empty bottle of poison found in the apartment indicated to the police that perhaps Mary had not died naturally.

Valuable jewelry was found in the apartment.

Revives Toledo Mystery.

Toledo, O., Jan. 31.—The finding of the lifeless body of Mary Warren in her apartment in Los Angeles today and the discovery that her sister Nanette had been living in the same room with the body, revives in Toledo one of the most impenetrable mysteries in police annals of this city.

The two sisters were residents of Toledo until they went to Los Angeles, nearly two years ago. In 1878 Samuel Warren, father of the two girls and a retired manufacturer disappeared. He was never heard of. Five years later Warren's wife died of a heart ailment. The death of Mrs. Warren left but the two members of the family.

The discovery in California of Mary's starved body leaves only the sister Nanette. Through the death of her sister she becomes sole heir to approximately $500,000 in her own right. The property includes the Warren place in Toledo, farms on the Maumee river, plantations in the south.

Samuel Warren was one of the pioneer business men and manufacturers in Toledo. He was prominent over northern Ohio as a breeder of fine horses. He organized a baggage and wagon factory.

The disappearance of the father, it is said, affected the mind of the young child, Mary. Although the two spinsters lived together in the family home for twenty-five years, Nanette was the business manager of the fortune. Tradesmen and real-estate men say she trusted no man and attended to all the details of her property. Mary became violent and eventually lost the power of speech.

Neighbors of the Warrens say the elder refused to consider marriage proposals on the ground that men were after her money.

DECLARES LOSS OF "MONROE" WAS DUE TO CARELESSNESS

Captain Johnson Files Libel Suit Against the Steamer Nantucket

PAPERS ARE SERVED

Commander Claims Million Dollars Damages from the Owners of Nantucket

TELLS STORY OF COLLISION

NORFOLK, Va., Jan. 31.—Declaring the loss of his vessel was due to the carelessness of the commander of the Steamer Nantucket, Captain E. R. Johnson of the Steamer Monroe filed a libel against the Nantucket today, claiming a million dollars damages. Action was filed in the United States district court and papers served on officials of the Merchants and Miners Transportation company, owners of the Nantucket at Norfolk and Baltimore.

In his complaint, Captain Johnson alleges that the Monroe was proceeding at half speed or less before the accident and had laid to after hearing fog whistles.

He says the Nantucket came upon him at such speed that a collision was unavoidable, although he had ordered his ship ahead at full-speed to avoid the blow. Wireless Operator E. L. Etheridge of the Monroe said tonight that the lone boat launched from the Monroe saved twenty-eight lives and went back for a second load after transferring her passengers to the Nantucket. Captain Johnson was in this boat.

"We picked up Mr. and Mrs. Harrington," said Etheridge, "but the latter died before we reached the Nantucket. We also picked up the body of a man. I believe that it was that of Lieut. Curtis. We had two women in our boat."

"We tried to launch two boats but one of them was swamped. We could not launch the starboard boats as the ship careened to that side."

"I sent out an S. O. S., call just before the ship went down. I remained in the radio room until our current was cut off. Then I followed Captain Johnson into the lifeboat. Neither of us was in the water at any time."

"Captain Johnson remained in the life boat until everybody we could find had been placed on board the Nantucket."

Officials of the Old Dominion line today announced that a wrecking steamer would be kept at sea searching for bodies of the Monroe's dead as long as any hope remained of finding the bodies.

Captain Johnson's Story.

Captain Johnson tells the following story of the collision in his complaint:

"At about 1:28 o'clock, approximately, ship's time, a fog signal of one blast of a whistle from a steamer was heard. It seemed to be about three points on the starboard bow. The engines of the Monroe were immediately stopped and remained stopped for about a minute, when a bright light was observed about four points on the starboard bow."

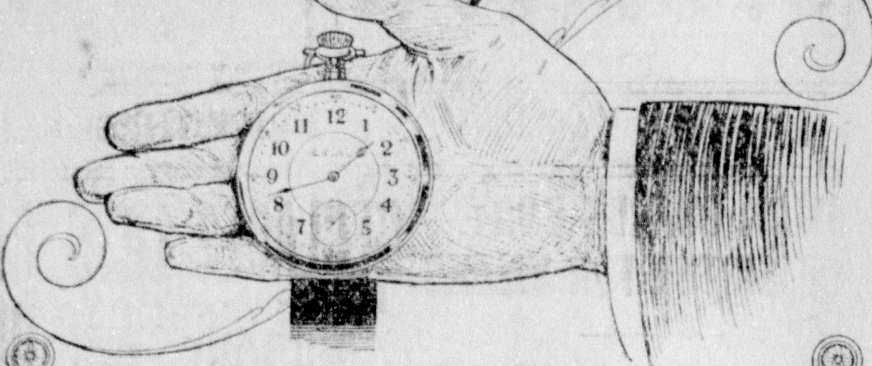

"As soon as this light was observed two whistles were blown by the Monroe and her wheel was put hard a starboard. The engines were put full speed ahead. It was impossible, however, to avoid a collision and the Nantucket, coming on with apparently undiminished speed, struck the Monroe on her starboard side, just forward of the pilot house the collision taking place in less than a minute after the Nantucket's light was first observed. A large hole was torn in the side of the Monroe, below the water line."

"The Monroe immediately began to fill and seeing she was in imminent danger of sinking orders were given to arouse all the passengers and clear away the life boats. In the meantime the Nantucket swung around the stern of the Monroe and was lying off about a quarter of a mile. The Monroe filled rapidly and about four minutes after the collision was nearly on beam ends. One of the lifeboats on the starboard side was smashed in the collision and another was swamped while being launched."

"The remaining lifeboats on the starboard side were got away as quickly as possible, it being impossible on account of the heavy list to starboard to launch the port lifeboats. Not more than ten minutes after the collision the Monroe foundered in about fifteen fathoms of water going down in approximately the same place at which the collision occurred."

"Many of the Monroe's crew and passengers were saved in her boats and others were picked up by boats from the Nantucket which was standing by and rendered all aid possible under the conditions. Nineteen passengers were lost and twenty-two of the crew were lost."

S. W. Babb who returned yesterday from Chicago said that practically all the time there was a crowd around the two speed rear axle demonstration, and enthusiastic about it too.

MAN ACCUSED OF TRIPLE MURDER; PRESENTS CALM MEIN IN JAIL

Andre and of purchasing mattresses and a sweater there. He says that he does not know why he made these purchases, that the articles were not needed and that he had not been directed by his wife, who usually made all the household purchases, to provide these things. He says too that he does not remember coming to Jacksonville or returning to Woodson land has no recollection of anything which happened in Jacksonville other than the vague memory of the purchases mentioned.

Mind a Blank.

His mind is a blank so far as the happenings between his recollection of his presence in Jacksonville according to Henry and the moment that he found himself roused from a slumber or sear in the freight yards of St. Louis on Wednesday morning. He has read in the papers the story of the killing of Charles Ezard, Everett and Howard Crain. His relatives have talked with him about the details of the tragedies and yet he says that he can not realize that the deaths have taken place.

There are no signs of remorse in the man's manner; he seems calm and collected with no trace of fear or cringing in his conduct though he complains of a pain in his head. He said to friends Saturday that possibly if he were taken to Woodson and visited the Ezard and Crain homes and found that the family circles had been broken that there might come to him a full realization of the facts about which he has read and been told.

Elder Henry Glad Son Returned.

While the awful tragedies of last Tuesday night have weighed upon the minds and hearts of people in the Woodson neighborhood and all over the county and there is great sympathy for all the men who lost their lives, there is also an equal sympathy for all the Henry family. Charles Henry, father of the accused spent the greater part of Saturday in the city and many were those who stopped to shake his hand, to express belief that John Henry could not have been in his right mind and still have committed the crimes charged against him. To all friends Mr. Henry expressed appreciation for the kindly spirit shown and replied that there was little to say about the return of his son but that in the time of sorrow there was some feeling of pride and joy that John had come back to face the charges against him and to meet them like a man.

Among other statements attributed to the returned man is one that he had not been drinking prior to Tuesday afternoon and that he has no recollection of securing a single drink after that time. As he lies upon a suspended pallet in his cell at the jail Henry is silent practically all the time and yesterday exchanged only a few words with William Fletcher who was placed in the same cell with him. Fletcher is being held on forgery charges.

Prisoner Talks Little.

When a Journal reporter was admitted by Turnkey Fanning to see Henry yesterday, he arose from his pallet and conversed briefly in the quiet way which is characteristic of him. In reply to a question he said that he had no story to make public at this time and that he did not feel in a condition to talk. As he was seated upon the pallet one hand pressed against his head and while he stood he seemed unconsciously to assume a like attitude. It was suggested to him that his neighbors and friends in the Woodson vicinity still had kindly things to say about him and he replied that he did not believe he had any enemy there, that he was really a Woodson man, because practically all of his forty-two years of life had been spent there.

Ill Health is Cited.

Members of the Henry family say that John has not been in good health for some time and that he had been making visits to a physician. Just a few days before the tragedies in conversation with Jordan McAllister, he complained that he did not feel well, that he was unable to sleep at night. As he talked quietly about the charges against him and of his own wanderings and his return and of the suffering his deeds are said to have caused one of Henry's comments was, "If these charges against me are true, if I did commit these deeds, then surely something should be rightfully done." It is related too that one of Henry's relatives in conversation sought to lead him out, to gain some admission which would indicate that events of Tuesday night had not faded out of memory. He said to Henry, "And now John which direction did you take after leaving Crain's house?" The answer came as speedily as John Henry ever talks, "I wasn't near Everett Crain's house." It is said that he recalls buying a hat and trousers in St. Louis and that he wore them and carried the old cap and overalls under his coat when he started for Woodson. Arrived at home, however, he was still wearing the overalls and cap and the new trousers and hat were underneath his coat.

No Jealousy in Henry Home.

Witnesses can be found who will testify it is said that Henry had recently spoken of being troubled about his health and it is affirmed too that an aunt of his died some years ago in an insane hospital. In several instances since the tragedies there have been veiled suggestions that Henry was jealous of his wife and that their home life was not altogether happy. Friends of the family, however, scoff at this statement and say that there was not the slightest cause for jealousy on the part of John Henry and while it is probably true that the wife enjoyed social affairs better than the husband that this condition obtains in thousands of happy homes. Mrs. Henry checked on her husband's bank account at pleasure and other points are now recalled and suggested as proof that the husband and wife thoroughly understood each other.

Will Deny Client's Responsibility.

So far as known the attorneys for Henry have thus far had no conference with him but from the statements made by friends and relatives of the accused man and from the story based upon their report it seems certain that temporary insanity will be the plea. The attorneys may or may not admit that Henry fired the shots which killed Everett Crain and his little son. It may be admitted or may not that he pulled the trigger when a gunshot wound brought death to Charles Ezard. If the claim is made that the time from Tuesday afternoon until Thursday morning is all a blank in Henry's memory it seems likely that the murders will be admitted but that acquittal will be demanded on the ground that the man was not mentally responsible for his acts.

Other Cases Recalled.

Court records reveal many cases where men have been acquitted from grave crimes because of alleged temporary insanity. Right here in Morgan county there have been notable lapses of memory which are recorded in the annals of physicians. One Woodson resident yesterday told of a man he knew who while temporarily deranged wandered for hours along country lanes and across fields. When the man recovered he had no recollection of his wanderings and insisted that he had never left his room. Years afterward however there came another derangement and while his mind was thus affected he related all the facts about his night journey, telling in detail just the route followed and all the sensations he had along the way.

Coroner To Begin Inquest Monday.

The coronor's inquest is to be held beginning Monday morning at 9 o'clock. Coroner Wright will be assisted by Deputy Coroner J. G. Reynolds and State Attorney Tilton will be assisted by J. Marshall Miller, Messrs. Hargrove and Wilson, attorneys for Mr. Henry will also be present. Just at what building the inquest will be held has not been determined nor has any statement been given as to the witnesses who will testify. It is not probable that Mr. Henry will appear before the jury as his attendance could not be required and it is unlikely that he will have any statement that he wishes to make at this time. There is some doubt also as to whether Mrs. Henry will testify. The jury will be S. J. Baxter, foreman; H. H. Shelton, Ball Fitzsimmons, T. M. Whitlock, J. W. McAllister and J. W. Woods, clerk.

No Rabid Feeling Manifest.

One marked feature of the situation is the absence of any rabid feeling against the accused man. In many such cases it would be unwise to hold an inquiry within so short a distance of the scene of the alleged crimes. Not so in this case, however, and thus far no man has been found who has sought to say reproachful about the general character and reputation of John Henry. He seems to be a man who had the common confidence and esteem of all the residents of his neighborhood and instead of enmity toward him there is unquestionably bewilderment and astonishment at the thought he could possibly be guilty of the grave charges against him. Added emphasis was given yesterday to the friendly feeling which the Woodson community has for the accused man and the sympathy for the family when relatives of Everett Crain sent a message that though weighed by sorrow the Crain family had no revengeful feeling toward the Henry's.

BASEBALL MAGNATES PLAN TO MEET FEDERAL RAID

Line Upon Which Legal Battle Will Be Carried Out Will Be Announced Soon—Other News of the Sporting World.

Pittsburgh, Jan. 31.—Plans to meet the raid of the Federal league for players in the courts were made here at a meeting of baseball magnates which continued until late tonight. Specific denial was given to reports that the meeting was for the purpose of taking the old National League park in Pittsburgh from the local Federal league club or that preparations were being made to have international league team play here while the National League club was out of the city. It was stated that Governor Tener and President Johnson each would issue statements when they reached their respective headquarters indicating the line upon which the legal battle against the Federal league is to be carried on.

Chicago, Jan. 31.—Representatives of the Federal league held a lengthy legislative session today and after it ended none would discuss what business had been considered. President James A. Gilmore would not even give out to the names of those in attendance.

mass meetings will be held this evening, one for the east side of the city at Centenary and the other for the west side at Central Christian church.

A striking commentary on the value and efficacy of missionary work is the high regard with which it is held by travelers, government officials and other secular authorities. Admiral Belknap of the United States navy says that there is not a single ruler, official, merchant or other person from emperors, judges, counsellors, ministers and admirals down to the lowest coolies in Japan, Siam and Korea who are not indebted every day of their lives to the work and achievements of

American missionaries. Marquis Ito, the later premier of Japan, says, "Japan's progress and development are largely due to the influence of missionaries exerted in the right direction when Japan was first studying the outer world." Strong testimony is offered by Col. Charles Denby, for twelve years United States minister to China. He says: "My acquaintance with missionaries of all denominations in China has taught me that they are doing good for humanity. They are the forerunners of commerce and diplomacy; they are the pioneers of progress. They blaze the way for art and science and sound morality. The best man and the best intellects in China respect and esteem them."

GOVERNOR DUNNE ADDRESSES PANAMA-PACIFIC COMMISSION

Architect's Plans for Buildings Not Approved—Will Prepare Plans for Cheaper Buildings.

Chicago, Jan. 31.—The Illinois Panama-Pacific Exposition commission at its first meeting today was addressed by Governor Dunne and viewed three designs for an Illinois building at the exposition. James B. Dibelka, state architect, presented the plans which provided for buildings to cost from $125,000 to $175,000. None of the plans was approved, however, and the architect was instructed to prepare other plans for cheaper buildings, one to cost $75,000, one $100,000 and a third $125,000. The legislature appropriated $300,000 for the Illinois exhibit at the San Francisco fair.

Noting that in 1892 California appropriated $392,000 for a state building at the Chicago World's Fair, Governor Dunne told the commission he believed a structure should be built that would be a credit to the power and strength of Illinois. He said he believed the legislative appropriation would be increased by public subscription.

about 10,000 which will be slightly fewer than the attacking rebels. General Francisco Villa who still is here but who later will assume personal command of the campaign to place the bulk of his army in easy marching distance of the city before the assault opens. It is possible he will first attempt to throw a rebel cordon around the city. Assassinations from Mexico that in case of an attack Spaniards in Torreon would be protected was accepted as applying to the federal treatment of Spaniards. In his occupation of Chihuahua City, General Villa ordered all Spaniards to leave the country and in the event he occupies Torreon it is not considered likely he will change his policy.

Bandits again are becoming active in the rebel territory and are gaining recruits. After they held up and robbed a train on the Mexico North-western at Guzman but permitted the passengers, including twenty-five Americans to proceed unharmed the free-booters continued on a campaign of looting in Western Chihuahua, where rebel forces have been unable to capture them.

Passengers from Chihuahua corroborated a report that Luis Terrazas Jr., son of a wealthy land owner, had been tortured by the rebels to induce him to disclose the hiding place of a fortune in cash. Many of the horses which were taken to the American side when the federal army crossed over from Olinaga were found to bear the brand of American cattle-men in Mexico who are members of the American cattle raisers' association. The horses had been pressed into the service of the Huerta army.

The firemen working in relays dropped unconscious one by one and were dragged away by their fellows while others took their places. A dozen ambulances surgeons from hospitals used pulmonary in reviving the men all of whom went stubbornly back to work, except fifteen who were removed to their quarters and four who were taken to hospitals.

RAILROADS CHARGE FOR REPAIRS THEY DO NOT MAKE

Witnesses Assert Repairs on Private Lines are Excessive—Many Repairs Imperfect.

Chicago, Jan. 31.—Railroads sometimes charge for repairs they do not make, witnesses testified today at the inter-state commerce commission's investigation of private car lines. They also asserted repair charges were excessive and said there should be a radical revision of accounting methods.

"Our principal difficulty is finding out if repairs for we have been charged have practically been performed," said Henry L. Mills, manager of the Western Livestock Express. "We have been charged for nuts and bolts on steel cars where such repairs could not possibly have been made. Nine times out of ten we are forced to go over repairs because they are imperfect."

"The railroads have a reciprocal agreement which prevents discrimination in repair work on cars owned by railroad but private car lines have no such understanding."

C. W. Reichmann, president of Streets' Western Stable Car line, did not think the charges were made excessive intentionally but said they were a continual source of annoyance. C. J. Miles, manager of the Double Stock Car company asserted the cost of repairs had greatly increased lately.

THREE RAILROADS AND PACKING FIRM OF SWIFT & CO., INDICTED

Indictments Returned by Federal Grand Jury on Charge of Rebating Brought by Special Agents.

Chicago, Jan. 31.—Indictments against three railroads and the packing firm of Swift & Co., were returned by the federal grand jury today on charges of rebating brought by special agents of the inter-state commerce commission. The railroads indicted are the Pennsylvania and its subsidiary, the Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis, known as the Pan Handle and the Chicago & Northwestern.

Named in the indictments are the Ann Arbor railroad company of Michigan, charged with having rebated to Swift & Co.; the W. H. Merritt Grain company of Chicago, charged with having received rebates from the Pennsylvania lines; the B. A. Eckhart Milling company of Chicago, charged with having received rebates from the Pan Handle and the David Rutter coal company of Evanston, Ill., charged with having received rebates from the Northwestern. Swift & Co. is the only one of the firms alleged to have received rebates which is indicted, the government attorneys stating that they sought to punish the railroads giving the alleged rebates and not the shipping profitting. Swift & Co., was indicted instead of the Ann Arbor railroad for the reason that the Michigan road is not within the jurisdiction of the court here. It is said proceedings to be instituted in Detroit may include the Ann Arbor road.

Sixty counts are in the indictments against Swift & Co., making the company liable to a possible fine of $1,200,000. Fines of $100,000 to $120,000 may be levied against the railroads if the indictments are sustained.

NEWS FORECAST FOR THE COMING WEEK.

Washington, Jan. 31.—By orders of the interstate commerce commission lower express rates throughout the United States will become effective Monday. At the same time reductions in rates will be made by the express companies operating in Canada. It is estimated that the average reduction in charges will be approximately 17 per cent.

Representatives of the United Mine Workers of America and the mine owners of the central competitive district, composed of western Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois, will meet in Philadelphia Tuesday for their joint wage scale conference.

It is hoped that the new scale will be agreed upon before the present agreement expires, March 31, so that there may be no cessation of work in the mines.

The so-called tap line cases which were decided against the interstate commerce commission by the commerce court will be reopened Wednesday. These cases involve the rights and privileges of sawmill railroads in the southwest, running back from trunk railroads to lumber camps. The litigation has been in the courts for several years and the final decision will have an important bearing on the development of the lumber business in the southwest.

The house commerce committee has fixed Wednesday as the day for beginning hearings on the McKellar cold storage bill, which proposes to limit the time of storage of perishable commodities from two to six months. Produce merchants and cold storage men will be on hand to oppose the measure on the ground that its enactment will discourage production, destroy the collateral value of perishable products and increase the cost of living.

Representatives of the agricultural colleges in the far west are to meet in conference the latter part of the week at the state agricultural college of Utah. The conference is to effect a permanent organization and discuss the standardizing of extension work and the securing of needed state and national legislation to aid them in carrying on their work.

A memorial to Captain Scott, who perished in the Antarctic region, will be unveiled Thursday on the Col de Lautaret in the French Alps, whither the British explorer went in March, 1908, to make a trial of the motor sleighs which he intended to use in his dash for the South Pole.

Among the meetings of the week will be the annual convention of the International Association of Custom Cutters, in Washington, D. C., and a winter meeting of the National Association of Real Estate Exchanges, in Tampa, Fla.

NEW MAYOR OF BOSTON HAS HAD UNUSUAL CAREER

Began as Bar Tender and Soon Had Political Influence—Graduated From Ward Politics to House of Representatives.

Boston, Jan. 31.—"To Have and to Hold" should have a place on Dr. Eliot's "six foot shelf," in the opinion of James H. Curley, who on Monday is to succeed John F. Fitzgerald as mayor of the city of Boston. Mr. Curley admits that he is not strong on the literary stuff, but the title of the popular novel is one that appeals to him. It's equivalent to the good old motto, "Get all you can and hold on to what you get," in the opinion of the mayor-elect of the "Athens of America."

Mr. Curley, like many other Americans who have risen to eminent positions in the service of his country, began his career as a delivery boy. As he grew to manhood his ambition prompted him to seek a broader field in which his ability and genius as a mixer might have ample opportunity for further development. So he became a bartender. Again he emulated the example of many great American statesmen who have used the bar as a stepping stone into politics and public life. Before he was quite old enough to vote Mr. Curley was a person of considerable influence in his neighborhood.

For the past fourteen years Mr. Curley has held public office, advancing through the political ranks from the common council, through the lower house of the Massachusetts legislature, the board of aldermen, to the national house of representatives and finally to the office of chief magistrate of Boston.

In all these years "Jim" Curley has never met defeat. In all these years he was never known to relinquish one job until he saw a better one in sight. And whenever it was possible he held to two jobs at the same time. To his official duties he has ever attended with faithfulness and punctuality. He was never known to be tardy or absent on pay day. Even the personal discomforts and distractions experienced during an involuntary residence of two months in the county jail, an experience that might cause an ordinary man to forget what he owed the community or what he owed himself, did not cause Mr. Curley to swerve from a single moment from his duties as office holder. During the entire period he drew his salary with strict regularity.

Now that he has received the highest honor that the city of Boston can give a citizen, Mr. Curley, unaffected alike by the praise of his followers or the criticism of his foes, keeps the simple motto of his life before him. Regardless of the fact that present mayor of Boston has broken down under the burdens of his office, unmindful of the opportunity to lighten his own burden, thinking only of the duty he owes to the city and the nation, to Mr. Curley and Mrs. Curley and the four little Curleys, the Hon. James M. Curley has decided that he will hold onto his old job as congressman after he takes his new job as mayor.

An ordinary man would lack the courage to assume the heavy responsibilities of holding two such important offices at the same time, one in Boston and the other in Washington. But the man whom the citizens of Boston have elevated to the highest office is not an ordinary man. Even his bitterest political enemy has never accused "Jim" Curley of lacking courage or nerve. In the present situation he sees his opportunity to serve his fellow men. His opposition to the forthcoming immigration bill. He does not mean to shirk his duty. He will remain, and meanwhile, true to the motto of his life, will draw down $10,000 a year as mayor of Boston, and $7,500 a year as a representative in congress.

ILLINOIS COLLEGE NOTES.

The work of the new semester will begin on Monday morning.

The Reverend Martin D. Hardin, who is to deliver the address at the Day of Prayer service at Illinois College, is a son-in-law of former vice-president of the United States Adlai E. Stevenson. The exercises will be held at the usual chapel hour, 9:50 a. m. Friends of the College will be cordially welcomed. The Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. will hold a joint meeting in the evening at seven o'clock at Academy Hall. Dr. Hardin will probably address this meeting.

Mrs. E. W. Blatchford, 45, who recently died in Chicago, was a member of the Board of Trustees of the college from 1866 to 1875.

Principal W. L. Harris of Whipple Academy has been called to his home in Frederick, Okla., on account of the serious illness of his father.

The Dramatic Club will present "As You Like It" this year. The members of the cast are busy rehearsing under the supervision of Professor Ames. It is hoped that the play may be given late in February or early in March.

CHICAGOANS TO GO TO CHURCH.

Chicago, Jan. 31.—Tomorrow will be Chicago's first "Go to Church" Sunday, and if the expectations of the promoters of the movement are realized every church from Hegewisch to Evanston and from the western prairies to the lake front will be filled to its utmost capacity at every service. The "Go to Church" movement was begun by the Christian Endeavor union early last December and later was taken up by the ministers and church organizations. During the past few weeks committees have made a house to house canvass of the entire city. Squads of workers have visited the factories and workshops, retail and wholesale stores, the police and fire stations and have asked the employees to attend church tomorrow. Leaders of the movement hope to fill every church in the city. At each of the services an appeal will be made from the pulpit that the observance of the Sabbath become a weekly instead of an annual event.

New York, Jan. 31.—The latest products of the boat builders, the engine makers, and the manufacturers of nautical fittings for power craft are disclosed at the annual National Motor Boat show, which opened at Madison Square Garden today for a week's engagement. Larger, more powerful and heavier engines are displayed than ever before. They are designed for cruising power boats of the largest and most luxurious type. In addition to the engines and other fittings the latest models of speed boats are shown, and each builder has something new to display and talk about.

A CALL TO PRAYER.

Many years ago President Woolsey of Yale wrote the following words:

"To any one who believes in prayer, a college with its interesting and hopeful materials, its means of influence, its peculiar temptations, the peculiar facility with which both good and evil spread, its quality of being the fountain from which Christian leaders are drawn—a college, I say, must be a most important object, for which to pray; and, if so, what needs to be said in regard to the necessity of fervent prayer on the part of Christians in the churches which avail much with God."

Next Thursday is a nation-wide Day of Prayer for Colleges. We invite the interest of every Christian in Jacksonville in this matter. Pray for the students, the faculties, the trustees and college officers. Pray that the outcome of the colleges may be men and women of clean hands and pure hearts, who love Christ and the church, and who will devote their trained ability to the services of their fellows.

"More things are wrought by prayer. Than this world dreams of. For what are men? Better than sheep or goats, if, knowing God, they lift not hands of prayer both for themselves

And those who call them friends. For so the whole round earth is every way bound by gold chains about the feet of God."

Joseph R. Barker.

NEW TRIAL FOR CONVICTED WOMAN.

Fulton, Mo., Jan. 31.—The case of Mrs. Susan Ross, accused of the murder of her husband, will come up in court Monday for its second trial. The first trial was held last September and resulted in a verdict of guilty and a sentence of ten years in the penitentiary. This verdict was set aside and a new trial granted by the court on the unusual ground that there was such a radical difference between the attorneys of Mrs. Ross in conducting the defense that the woman was not given a fair hearing before the jury.

FOOTBALL FOUNDATION OF POLITICAL CAREER

MANY FAMOUS PLAYERS ACHIEVE POSITIONS OF PROMINENCE POLITICALLY.

Former Knights of the Gridiron Are Selected or Appointed to All Manner of Political Positions—Recent Election of Blair Lee Recalls Long List—Other Sporting News.

New York, Jan. 31.—That college football with its rigorous training, necessity for self control and ability to surmount repeated setbacks on the part of its players, is particularly fitting for a successful political career later in life would appear to be indicated by the number of famous players who have achieved positions of prominence in both state and nation. There is seldom an election of importance in which some football player is not elevated to public life by the voters of one or another political party. Those former knights of the gridiron are selected or appointed to all manner of political positions and almost without exception discharge the duties of their offices in an extremely satisfactory manner.

The recent election of Blair Lee as United States senator from Maryland recalls to mind the long list of former players who have won public recognition of similar nature. Lee, who was a famous "forward" at Princeton in the late seventies, playing the position of "next-to-end" now known as tackle, followed the footsteps of many other Princeton, Harvard and Yale players.

Robert Bacon, late ambassador to France, was an old Harvard captain and half-back; James S. Harlan of United States Interstate Commerce Commission is an old Princeton forward; Lee McClung, late treasurer of the United States, a former captain and half-back at Yale; William H. Lewis, recently assistant attorney general of the United States, an old Harvard center; S. H. Thompson, the present first assistant attorney general of the United States and William W. J. Charles D. Daly, the Army's successful coach last fall, has recently left the office of fire commissioner of Boston to rejoin the Army and the list might be continued indefinitely.

The University of Pennsylvania boxing team elected officers last week to formulate plans and take action toward the formation of an intercollegiate boxing league. The projected organization is the result of five years' effort by Pennsylvania boxing enthusiasts to interest other universities in the establishment of such a league. One obstacle is the popular belief that boxing is dangerous and an incentive to gambling. It is believed, however, that the present effort will succeed, and that boxing will be taken up as an intercollegiate sport.

If a league is formed the Amateur Athletic association novice rules will be amended to serve as the league code. The projected regulations call for a regulation to serve as the league code. The projected regulations call for a regulation costume and eight ounce gloves. Other rules will provide for three rounds in all competitions; an interval of one minute between rounds; each competitor to be assisted by one second, who shall be an undergraduate in good standing; no coaching during the progress of a bout. No student under eighteen years of age will be allowed to compete.

Boston, Jan. 31.—A move in the direction of placing power boats sailing on a practical and firm basis will be made at a meeting of representative yachtsmen at the New York Yacht club on Monday night, when it is expected the power boat squadron of the United States will be formed. The organization aims at the control, sanctioned by the federal government of all pleasure craft equipped with some method other than sails. A general committee headed by Henry A. Morse of this city has worked out definite plans. According to the committee local power squadrons are to be formed and a central organization created to bind the smaller bodies.

It is planned to hold a standard system of examinations under supervision of naval officers as a basis of issuing certificates of competency; to adopt a uniform system of rules regarding signals and evolutions and to prove the efficiency and availability of the power boat as an auxiliary in time of war in order to bring about official recognition by the navy department and also by congress.

New York, Jan. 31.—The signed contracts of pitcher Albert Schulz and Catcher William Reynolds were received by President Farrell of the American league today.

With the signing of these two President Farrell announced he had twenty six players under contract, all the men Chance will need this year. Mr. Farrell said he would have the services of King Cole, who has jumped to the Federal league when the American league season opened or Cole would not play at all.

Chicago, Jan. 31.—A campaign for entries for the Central A. A. U. basketball championship was begun today by the Irving Park Country club where the tournament will be played. Notices were sent to teams in fifty of the larger cities in the central district. Games for the title will be played Feb. 6, to 21.

Chicago, Jan. 31.—Games to decide the basketball championship for high schools and academies in the Central states will be played March 12, 13, and 14 at the Evanston, Ill. Y. M. C. A., according to the call issued today by J. W. Brady, chairman of the American basketball championship committee. Notices were mailed to all eligible schools.

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 31.—Eddie Campi of San Francisco was knocked out by "Kid" Williams of Baltimore in the twelfth round of their scheduled twenty round bout at Vernon this afternoon. The boys fought at the bantam weight limit.

Minneapolis, Minn., Jan. 31.—More than 200 teams have registered for the annual tournament of the International Bowling association which opens here on Feb. 11. The entry list will remain open until Feb. 11.

SOUTHERN RELIEF BALL.—Washington, Jan. 31.—Official and resident society in the capital, especially the southern contingent, is anticipating with keen interest the annual ball to be given at the New Willard on Monday night by the Southern Relief society. For many years the balls of the Southern Relief society have been among the most notable of the winter social functions in Washington. Miss Nanette Randolph Heth, president of the society, will be assisted in receiving by Mrs. Marshall, wife of the vice president, and several ladies of the cabinet circle. Miss Genevieve Clark, daughter of the speaker, is at the head of the young ladies' committee.

TO PROTECT RURAL TRAVELERS.—Chicago, Jan. 31.—Because of the large number of country folks who have been trying to outbid one another in buying the lake front park in Chicago, the suspension bridge in Cincinnati and similar bargains offered by the confidence men at other cities of the middle west, the Central Passenger association has decided that beginning tomorrow, no stop-over privileges will be granted by railroads on homeseekers' tickets. The principal stop-over points on such tickets have been Chicago, St. Louis, Cincinnati, Kansas City, Omaha, St. Paul and Minneapolis.

NEW ENGLAND RAILROAD CHANGE.

Boston, Jan. 31.—As a part of the "unscrambling" process which the federal government insists the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad shall undergo, the operating agreement between that road and the New York Central in regards to the use of the Boston & Albany road ceased to exist today. The agreement, which was made in 1911, provided that the New Haven might run certain trains over the tracks of the Boston & Albany road, which is under lease to the New York Central.

GIRLS! GIRLS! TRY IT, BEAUTIFY YOUR HAIR

Make it Thick, Glossy, Wavy, Luxuriant and Remove Dandruff—Real Surprise For You.

Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's after a "Danderine" hair cleanse. Just try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt and excessive oil and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair.

Besides beautifying the hair at once, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair.

But what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use when you will actually see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair growing all over the scalp. If you care for pretty, soft hair and lots of it surely get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any druggist or toilet counter, and just try it.—Adv.

STRAIGHTEN YOU UP

No Sick Headache, Bilious Stomach, Coated Tongue or Constipated Bowels by Morning.

Get a 10 cent box now.

Turn the rascals out—the headache, biliousness, indigestion, the sick, sour stomach and foul gases—turn them out tonight and keep them out with Cascarets.

Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then and never know the misery caused by a lazy liver clogged bowels or an upset stomach.

Don't put in another day of distress. Let Cascarets cleanse your stomach; remove the sour fermenting food; take the excess bile from your liver and carry out all the constipated waste matter and poison in the bowels. Then you will feel great.

A Cascaret tonight straightens you out by morning. They work while you sleep. A 10-cent box from any drug store means a clear head, sweet stomach and clean healthy liver and bowel action for months. Children love Cascarets because they never gripe or sicken.

MI-O-NA FIRST AID

TO SICK STOMACH

Distress after eating, belching of gas and undigested food, that lump of lead feeling in the stomach, headache, biliousness and lack of energy, are warning signals. Now—at once—is the time to take precaution and stop this distress.

Mi-o-na Stomach Tablets is the remedy. Get a fifty cent box today. Their action is safe, effective and immediate. Besides surely and quickly stopping the distress, Mi-o-na soothes the irritated walls of the stomach and strengthens the gastric glands so that they pour out their daily supply of digestive materials, causing prompt digestion and assimilation of the food. Then the entire system is properly nourished.

Mi-o-na is not an experiment. It is not a cure all. It is a scientific remedy recommended for but one thing—out-of-order stomachs. Always have Mi-o-na handy at home or traveling.

Mi-o-na is always sold on the money back if not benefited plan. Drugists everywhere.—Adv.

CHRISTMAS GIFTS FOR BLIND BOYS IN CHINA

Offerings Sent to Far off Country by Pupils of Jacksonville Schools Bring Thanks.

Last fall an effort was made by one who had been on the ground and had seen what one noble woman was doing for sightless boys in China, to get a little token to send them for Christmas. In this good work the eighth grade, the ward schools, the Maple Grove school and the Sherman school north of the city all united in sending money; the pupils at the State School for the Blind sent articles made by them and a little crippled friend of the sender contributed some beautifully made ties.

A letter expressing gratitude was recently received from Mrs. Winkinson, the head of the school in China and some extracts are appended. The personal parts are omitted.

Blind Boys' School, Foochow, China, Dec. 23rd, '13.

My Dear Mr. —

My faith only thought of $10.00 so I was greatly surprised at the $101.89 silver, that Mr. Christian brought me on the 20th.

How I thank all the dear boys and girls who have sent this money. Will you thank them for me? The boys will write after Christmas. There are 78 boys and for each one I can have some good thing and also a good feast which they dearly love.

The articles made for us at the School for the Blind in Jacksonville have reached us quite safely and the boys are very keen to feel them. They are such very different things from what they have out here. Will you especially thank the cripple friend for the ties; beautifully made they are.

I am going to England on furlough a while and shall see my darling little girl who is in England. On our return we must part with both son and daughter for a while for His sake.

Very kind regards and heartfelt thanks.

Yours in the service,
Amy Mabel Wilkinson.

This noble woman carries on a school for helpless blind boys, teaching them to read, write and all who can take it some music. Then all are taught useful trades, such as weaving, mattress and mat making; brushes, brooms and anything a blind person can do. She has no society behind her and in the management of the school displays wonderful executive ability. She feeds, lodges, clothes and educates her sightless charges and to say they love her is putting it mildly.

Like all foreign missionaries with children, they must send their away to be educated and that is probably the hardest cross they have to bear. As one gentleman remarked: "I should have to be converted over again before I could bring myself to do that."

Mrs. Winkinson began the work with one little boy, little dreaming to what proportions it would grow. Persons who sneer at foreign missions or lack faith in them ought to see some such enterprises as this one.

HOW CHRISTIE AND LOWE FARM GREAT TRACT OF ILLINOIS LAND

show steadily increasing yields without any special effort to enrich it, either by commercial fertilizers or by crop rotation. Some of our tenants get as much as a hundred bushels of corn to the acre and forty bushels of wheat. The experience of the experiment farm of the University of Illinois has shown us that good farming sense will maintain the fertility of Illinois land for years. And we shall be guided largely by their record in our use of the land."

The experiments to which Mr. Shaw referred covered a period of nearly thirty-five years. At the end of that time, with no commercial fertilizer, but with a tested system of crop rotation, the yield of corn and wheat was only a few bushels less than its highest yield after the wild prairie land had been "tamed."

The net profits of the Christie and Lowe farms have ranged between $12 and $17 an acre. Half of this on a 200-acre farm would seem to be a very comfortable annual profit for a tenant.

The principal objection to farm tenancy has been based upon the fact that with short leases the tenant has no interest in building up permanent fertility, taking care of buildings, making improvements, and increasing the general character of the farm. Lengthening the lease to three or five years is the practical solution of this difficulty.

Farm tenancy promises to continue to increase and the interesting thing is that in many cases tenants are making more net profit and are better satisfied as tenants than they would be as owners, while at the same time the owner is receiving an income equivalent to that received from other safe investment, namely four or five per cent.

Many people rely upon Chamberlain's Cough Remedy implicitly in cases of colds and croup, and it never disappoints them. Mrs. E. H. I have always given it to my children when suffering from croup, and it has never failed to give them prompt relief." For sale by all dealers.—Adv.

Miss Flora Hall, County secretary of Sunday schools for Morgan county, has prepared her annual reports showing the condition of the various schools at the first of the year and making a comparison with their enrollment, average attendance, etc., in 1912. It aids expectoration and opens the secretions, which enables the system to throw off a cold. It counteracts any tendency of a cold to result in pneumonia. It contains no opium or other narcotic, and may be given to a child as confidently as to an adult. For sale by all dealers.—Adv.

C. W. CARSON, M. D.,
766 Oakwood Blvd., Chicago, Ill.

To Whom It May Concern:

After having doctored with several doctors in the city, without receiving any relief from a run-down condition due to nervousness and an erratic beating of the heart, I went to Dr. C. W. Carson, the Chicago Specialist, for treatment, in May, 1913.

After taking six monthly treatments, I find that I have gone from 103 pounds to 123 pounds in weight, and my heart beat is normal.

I now feel like my former self once again, due to Dr. Carson's treatment.

Profit Yourself by Knowing Jacksonville, Better!

The Unusual Weather Conditions

The undersigned, leading merchants of Jacksonville, are going to take advantage of the unusual weather conditions (an open winter) that have hampered trade, to put into effect a long considered plan whereby the residents of that territory extending fifty miles in each direction from Jacksonville will be able to prove financially that in this city is the logical place to trade—where they will find just the things desired, at prices that will mean real savings; where the courtesy and attention shown them will be pleasing; where their parcels are checked for them free; where their railroad fares will be refunded. When you buy, ask for a Rebate Book.

The Logical Trading Center for Central Western Illinois.

Quality is higher and prices are lower, because competition is keener. Larger open stocks are carried the entire year, and shopping accommodations are always good. It will cost but little to prove these claims.

And An Appeal to the Thrifty

The merchants mentioned here have determined on a full week of undivided attention and effort to prove to you the truth of their claims. They don't want to sell to you once, and never see you again. You see, they must make good in order to retain your confidence when once it is gained. There will be special bargains offered in all lines. This will be an unprecedented week in the selling annals of Jacksonville; an event that should appeal immediately to the thrifty minded; an event that will put dollars back into your pockets. Ask for parcels checks and rebate system books. If you need nothing now, come to Jacksonville and just "Shop." You'll certainly like what you see.

MAYOR OF ROCKFORD HOPEFUL IN CAMPAIGN FOR DRY CITIES

Great Interest Manifest in Quincy All Day Local Option Meetings—Mayor Bennett Discusses Situation in Home City

Mayor Bennett of Rockford, who was in the city for a few hours Saturday enroute for Springfield, speaks very optimistically of the coming wet and dry municipal campaigns but does not feel so hopeful with regard to the anti-saloon cause in the assembly elections next fall. In Rockford, petitions are being circulated by those who would bring the saloons back but it is doubtful, the mayor said, if the required number of names can be secured to bring the matter to a vote.

The situation in Quincy is more hopeful than the newspaper comment would imply said Mr. Bennett. The overwhelming defeat of the new form was interpreted as a repudiation of the dry policies but the mayor of Rockford thinks chances of voting out the saloon in the Gem City are good. In saloonless Rockford the commission form was defeated by a majority of over three to one.

Mr. Bennett had just returned from Quincy where he participated in an Anti-Saloon league rally such as was held in this city the first of last week. The other speakers were Howard B. Russell, F. Scott

McBride and John G. Woolley. Immense throngs attended the meetings, which were held in one of the Methodist churches in Quincy and the interest manifest was far in excess of anything Mr. Bennett expected to witness.

Mr. and Mrs. Bennett left for Springfield on the 9:27 Wabash. While in the city they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Horace H. Bancroft of Westminster street, who entertained them at dinner.

WORLD'S LATEST FINANCIAL AND MARKET NEWS

UPTURN IN LONDON MARKET INFLUENCES NEW YORK MOVEMENT

After Higher Prices In Early Trading, Reaction Forces Prices Below Friday's Close—Quotations Rally In Last Half Hour.

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—Higher prices were quoted in almost every case in the early trading today. Buying proceeded with unimpaired vigor and the rise of yesterday was extended sufficiently to establish top figures, in many cases, for the advance which began last month. Another upturn in the London market together with buying here for foreign account, influenced the movement. The market failed, however, to maintain its improvement. A reaction set in which forced prices below yesterday's close. In the last half hour the trend was again reversed.

Quotations rallied strongly and at the close changes were irregular with a preponderance of gains. Realizing on the part of traders, who preferred to be out of the market over the week-end, checked the advance. Weakness of the Rock Island securities held back the market. News of probable re-organization of the Rock Island company and a possible friendly receivership, caused the common stock to drop 2½ to 12½, the preferred 3½ to 4½ and collateral 4½ to 1½ to 48.

These losses were cut down on the late upward swing. The bill stocks were in especially good demand and made substantial gains. Low priced specialties also reflected good buying.

The almost unprecedented inflow of money this month was well maintained during the week, the bank statement showing a cash gain in the actual total of $9,400,000. This brought up the total by New York banks in January to $76,500,000.

PITTSFIELD H. S. BUILDING IS BADLY DAMAGED BY FIRE

Loss is Fully Covered By Insurance—School to Be Held in Court House While Building is Being Repaired.

Fire of an unknown origin damaged the Pittsfield high school building to an amount estimated at from $10,000 to $15,000 Saturday afternoon about 2 o'clock. The loss is fully covered by insurance.

The blaze was discovered about 2 o'clock by a son of Mr. Bringham, the janitor, and he gave the alarm. The fire fighting apparatus was soon on the scene and prompt action saved the building from total destruction. The fire started on the first floor and the assembly room and the rooms adjoining and those below were badly burned. The janitor was in the building an hour before the fire and at that time there was nothing wrong. The building originally cost $45,000 and insurance to the amount of $36,000 is carried on the structure and $2,000 on the contents.

Arrangements have been made to continue the regular sessions of the school uninterruptedly in the court house building until the school building is repaired. Arrangements for repairing the structure will be made as soon as the insurance is adjusted.

LECTURED ON HAMLET.

Montville Flowers Delights Audience With His Interpretation.

Montville Flowers, the well known lecturer was heard last night at the Woman's college, his appearance being one of the number of the Artists' course. His fame as a speaker has been well established all over the country and the subjects he speaks upon are handled in a masterly way.

Last night he delighted the audience with the story of "Hamlet," perhaps one of his most scholarly lectures. He gave a comprehensive synopsis of the play and interspersed his address with liberal quotations from Hamlet. So vividly did he portray each character that it revealed the work of a true artist. The audience was highly delighted and splendidly entertained. Mr. Flowers is on his way to the Pacific coast, where he has a number of engagements.

EXPRESS COMPANIES CONSOLIDATE IN HAVANA.

Recently the Adams, American and Wells Fargo express companies joined forces in Havana and the business of the three will hereafter be conducted from the Wells Fargo office, that company controlling under the management of their agent, A. R. Byre, who was formerly with the Wells Fargo in Jacksonville. This will make the W. F. company's office one of the busiest spots in the country as Havana is an important express point because of the thousands of barrels of fish that are shipped from there every year to almost every state in the union and in the Dominion of Canada. The consolidation was brought about by the necessity of the several companies reducing their expenses to offset their losses elsewhere to the parcel post, though that popular institution has had little effect in Havana.

From New York he went to Bluffs and came from that place to Jacksonville in 1888, residing here since April 20, 1889. DE WOODY DENIES ALL CHARGES BEFORE FEDERAL GRAND JURY Denies He Received Money in Connection With the Prosecution of Jack Johnson.

Chicago, Jan. 31.—Charles F. DeWoody, former superintendent of the bureau of investigation of the department of justice here appeared today before the federal grand jury and denied he had received money in connection with the prosecution of Jack Johnson for alleged violation of the Mann act. His examination occupied the entire session of the jury. Mr. DeWoody also was asked about alleged charges of the son and wife of Sol Lewinsohn, federal bondsman who has disappeared, in regard to his connection with the prosecution of Sidney McHie, who pleaded guilty to operating a "bucket-shop." Hiram Lewinsohn is said to have testified that he saw his father hand $500 to DeWoody about eighteen months ago in the Knickerbocker Hotel, New York. In reply DeWoody is said to have explained Sol Lewinsohn, being well known in the hotel had cashed a check for him.

An automobile trip to New York, alleged to have made by DeWoody and Lewinsohn in July, 1912, was next taken up. DeWoody is said to have admitted making the trip but asserted it was three months before the settlement of the McHie case. James H. Wilkerson, United States district attorney, previously testified he assumed all responsibility in recommending a fine only in the McHie case.

MOYER WILL RETURN TO HANCOCK TO AID STRIKERS

Will Help Present Their Case to the Congressional Committee.

Houghton, Mich., Jan. 31.—Word from their leader Charles H. Moyer, that he would return to the copper country in time to help present their case to the congressional committee was brought to the striking miners today by Dan Sullivan, president of the district council of the Western Federation of Miners. Moyer and Sullivan met last night in Chicago.

"I am authorized to state that President Moyer will return to Hancock as soon as he has disposed of some matters awaiting his attention in Denver," said Sullivan tonight. Vice-president Mahoney and several other officials of the federation probably will accompany Moyer, he said. These officers are under indictment here on a charge of conspiracy and they will be arrested, according to Sheriff Cruse as soon as they come within the jurisdiction of the court. Union leaders are busily engaged gathering information which they hope to be able to put before the investigation committee of the house of representatives. Sullivan said the strikers would have enough witnesses to keep the committee in this section for several weeks if all of them were heard. An additional fund of approximately $7,500 a week is expected to be available for the support of the strikers within a short time as the result of the assessment levied at Lansing, according to Sullivan.

Mr. and Mrs. Garner left over the Burlington for a brief wedding trip west and will be at home to their friends at 1759 W. Adams street, Chicago, Ill., after March 1st.

SEN. NEWLANDS RE-INTRODUCES RIVER REGULATION BILL

Bill is Amended to Provide Way to Prevent Repetition of Floods in Lower Mississippi.

Washington, Jan. 31.—Senator Newlands, re-introduced today his river regulation bill, so amended as to provide a way to prevent repetition of flood disasters in the lower Mississippi valley.

"The bill contemplates," said Senator Newlands, "not only a standardized levee system but also a standardized river flow. Its ultimate object is to so regulate the flow of navigable rivers as to make that flow even throughout the year so far as possible by the control of the floods at the source."

"The bill provides for the Mississippi valley an adequate levee system supplemented by both stream control and a system of controlled outlets and auxiliary flood water channels in the lower delta. These will not only protect the lower valley but also will safeguard the valleys on all the tributaries."

"The bill is nation-wide in its scope and provides for treating every river system as a unit."

WILL GO TO FLORIDA.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mather will leave tomorrow for West Palm Beach, Fla., where they will reside.

Mr. and Mrs. Mather have for a number of years been in charge of Cullum hall at the School for the Deaf and have been especially popular among both teachers and pupils. Their work has been of an exceedingly high order and Supt. Gillett and his associates at the school sincerely regret that Mr. and Mrs. Mather determined to establish a home in Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Mather were entertained recently by a number of the pupils of the School for the Deaf who took that manner to show their appreciation of their friends. The tables, which were in the form of a cross, were prettily decorated and hand-painted place cards indicated the seat of each in the company. After the luncheon they were presented with a pretty piece of silverware and a picture in which a number of the students were shown grouped about Mr. and Mrs. Mather. Games were played for the remainder of the time and the evening was thoroughly enjoyed.

Ray and Miss Mable Bourn were host and hostess last evening at a sleighing party which was enjoyed by about eighteen of their friends. The young people left for their ride at 8 o'clock and arrived, after two and one half hours of exhilarating travel, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Carlson, 324 South Clay avenue, where an oyster supper was served. The evening was rounded out by some exciting parlor contests and clever games.

The choir of the Lutheran church was pleasantly entertained last Thursday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Stice at their home in the Cherry apartments. The evening was spent in a most delightful social manner and with music and a musical contest. The appointments for this party were charmingly made. The decorations were pink and green and these colors were carried out in the dainty refreshments served.

Chicago Physicians Have Been Working Several Days in Second Ward.

Dr. P. Black and Dr. W. Y. Thompson of Chicago have been in the city several days collecting data relative to the severe sore throat disease, known by the medical term as Steno "Coccus," which has been so prevalent the past weeks. They are working in the second ward and it is possible that they will finish in the fourth ward before returning home. They inquire at the different homes of people who are sick and if there are cases of bad throats they make examinations, and question closely as to the water drunk, where milk is obtained and other questions bearing upon the malady. They are under the direction of Dr. Joseph Capps of Chicago.
